W. CRANE, 42G Montg'y st., San Prancisco wm. GEDLING. Bullionville STARR. Hamilton THE WHETCHEDNESS OF MARRIED LIFE. The New York Tribune is inclined to think the duly disgusting revelations of Courts—the parricides, the wife murders, stc.—would affect the marriage market, if love and lovers were subject to ordinary rules of commerce. A certain dis-content and uneasiness, we are told, have penetrated to the very tranquilest of the homes even of the best classes. In fact, nomes even of the best classes. In fact, it would seem as though, now-a-days, the glamour, the softening light and shadows of a love which professes to be eternal, are all gone, and nothing remains out the bare hard fact of a mutual social partnership. And yet, the writer goes on to show, we are no whit less fit for sedded constancy and happiness than were our grandfathers. Husbands, we are reminded, were as apt to be unfaithwere our grandlathers. Husbands, we are reminded, were as apt to be unfaithful in old times as now, and wives as aperulous; and yet in the olden time mere was undoubtedly an accord, a habit of affection, of mutual yielding, care, esaideration in marriage, which is too chas lacking now. Moreover, whatever appropriate sort of their come exercise only in such share of their come exercise only in such share of their found exercise only in such share of their husband's affairs as were expounded to them by their husbands. Now, however the young bride at Grace Church and liefs. The same is equally true with the justiend. And as two cannot walk together unless they be agreed, the editor demonstrates that out of these very differences, so trival at first, grow almost all the dissension and wretchedness of correct life. portried life. A Good "UscLE."-"Uncle Cook" is a Boston philanthropist whose charitable propensities are specially moved by the wors of the criminal classes. He has been for some time chaplain of the Suffelk County Jail, and in that capacity has done much good. But his great work has been in the Municipal Court of Boston. For the last ten years, this faithful man has been a constant attendant at the Court, watching specially after the interest of the unfortunate women she are there arraigned. His success has been very marked, and, not in a few in-stances, he has reclaimed those who had been called 'hopeless cases' for many years. The Court, recognizing his usefulness, often places these unfortunate women under his care, on probation. During the year ending June 1st, he took in charge, in this manner, four hundred and thirty-two persons, becom-ing personally responsible for their good deportment. Of this number, eightyfive per cent, have proved not unworthy of the confidence which "Uncle Cook" had intrusted in them. Some of these were victims of intemperance, who have been saved to a life of usefulness, through the untiring zeal of this good man. Others were young girls, who were saved or resented from a life of shame by "Uncle Cook's" care and Caristian kindness.
